

Research Presentations by Alumni and Current Grad Students

October 11, 2014 1-5:30pm.

Interdisciplinary Humanities Center

McCune Conference Room, HSSB

1:00-1:15	Minerva Oropeza Escobar	My doctoral training in UCSB Linguistics Department in the light of my current research: A brief reflection
1:15-1:30	Hiroko Takanashi	Playing the fool and inviting impolite remarks: Culturally patterned complementary resonance
1:30-1:45	Kristine Hildebrandt	Manang Languages Documentation Project
1:45-2:00	Tim Henry/Alex Walker	The Western Institute for Endangered Language Documentation
2:00-2:15	Robert Englebretson	From the Field to the Fingertips: Research on the Perceptual, Cognitive, and Linguistic Aspects of Braille Reading
2:15-2:30	Break
2:30-2:45	Sarah Pérez-Kriz	The Linguistic Profile of Robot-Directed Speech
2:45-3:00	Salomé Gutiérrez Morales	The activity verb sa'a ²² in Abasolo del Valle Mixtec
3:00-3:15	Nate Sims	Towards a more comprehensive Qiang dialectology
3:15-3:30	Di Wdzenczny	Analogic Change in Wichi Nominal Tense

3:30-3:45	Heather Simpson	Remembering for Speaking: Short-term memory capacity in processing of connected speech
3:45-4:00	Break
4:00-4:15	Audrey Lopez	Affect in Interaction in Latina/o Peer Discussions of Language Brokering
4:15-4:30	Phill Rogers	Illustrating the prototype structure of parts of speech with multidimensional scaling
4:30-4:45	Danny Hieber	Category Genesis through Schematicity: On the Origin of Chitimacha Preverbs
4:45-5:00	Don Daniels	Reconstructing aspect in Proto-Sogeram serial verbs
5:00-5:15	Brendan Barnwell	According to these results, you may not believe them
5:15-5:30	General Discussion	